AMERICAN TARS LAND AT SYDNEY

Publicly Welcomed by the Officials of Australia.

MEN OF THE FLEET PARADE

Thirty-five Hundred of Them March Through the Streets to the Cheers of the Australians—Carry Arms, But No Ammunition.

Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 21.—Sydney was aglow with life and color, and surging thousands filled the streets as never before, for this was the day set for the official landing and for Australians to publicly welcome the bone and sinew of the visiting fleet officers and men.

No more triumphant entry of gallant vessels into a port was ever witnessed than when the warships pushed through the haze of sea and steamed majestically past the headlands, crowded with a cheering multitude. Later Australians had an opportunity to see the men who brought the ships in safety thus far on their voyage around the world.

From Farm cove, where the landing occurred, throughout the lengthy line of march, the crowds gave enthusiastic welcome. Large bodies of men from all the ships were brought ashore in the morning in launches. They numbered close to 3,000. In sections they marched to the outer domain, which adjoins the botanical gardens, and formed upon allotted spaces fronting the reception pavilion. Then came the admirals and their staffs, who landed ashore on the east side of the cove, where a guard of honor from the British naval forces was drawn up. They were met by the prime minister, Alfred Deakin, and the other ministers of the commonwealth, the premier of New South Wales, and his ministers, the lord mayor of Sydney and members of the corporation.

Greeted by the Governor General.

Rear Admiral Sperry, commander of the fleet, inspected the naval guard and then, with the others, was driven to the reception pavilion in the domain, where he was greeted by Lord Northcote, governor general of Australia; Sir Harry Rawson, the governor of New South Wales, and the military and naval heads of the colony.

The scene was a brilliant and picturesque one. The grand pavilion was surrounded by a great golden eagle, glittering in the sunlight and the curved balustrades were inscribed with the names of the American states. The stands surrounding the pavilion seemed almost buried with flags, bunting and evergreens. These were occupied by the federal and state ministers, the members of the various branches of the legislature and government officials, many of whom were accompanied by ladies, whose gay costumes furnished vivid patches of color.

Lord Northcote on behalf of Australia extended the heartiest of welcomes to Admiral Sperry, his officers and men, and congratulated them warmly on the success of the voyage.

After greetings had been exchanged a procession was formed, the lord mayor and officials and the American admirals with their staffs occupying carriages. Thirty-five hundred men from the fleet took part in the procession. They carried arms, but no ammunition, in accordance with an arrangement which was made the night before.

The detachments from various ships were headed by color bearers and accompanied by the ships' bands. Their marching was commented upon with admiration, and they were cheered on every hand. All the streets along the route were profusely decorated and lined with federal troops and police. On the return to the domain the visitors were entertained at luncheon. The whole city turned out to do them honor and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed.

BREAKS FOUR RECORDS.

Lusitania Makes Fastest Trip Across the Atlantic.

New York, Aug. 21.—The Cunard liner Lusitania has finished a sensational run across the Atlantic and when the official figures for the trip became available after the liner had anchored outside the bar for the night it developed that the big turbine had not only lowered all records for the transatlantic voyage by nearly four hours, but that she had also broken three other records.

She made the passage across the Atlantic in just 4 days and 15 hours. The best previous record, made by her on Nov. 8, last, was 4 days, 18 hours and 40 minutes, her new performance lowering the previous mark by 3 hours and 40 minutes.

On the whole trip of 2,718 miles, the Lusitania made an average speed of 25.05 knots an hour, a new record, the previous one being 25.01, made by her on her record trip last November. The third record broken is that for the greatest day's run—650 knots up to noon of Aug. 17—in which run she also set a new pace in steaming an average of 25.66 knots for the 24 hours.

FAVOR RENOMINATION OF GOVERNOR HUGHES

Prominent Republicans Confer at Oyster Bay.

New York, Aug. 21.—Contrary to expectations, no announcement was made by Frank Hitchcock, chairman of the Republican national committee, as to the sentiment developed at the Oyster Bay conference for or against the renomination of Governor Hughes. Mr. Hitchcock and James S. Sherman, the Republican candidate for vice president, returned to New York on the yacht of George J. Smith, the treasurer of the New York state committee, in the same manner they were taken to Oyster Bay.

Not only did Mr. Hitchcock fail to give out any statement, but he went to his apartments at the Manhattan hotel without seeing any newspaper men.

Mr. Williams, secretary to Mr. Hitchcock, said that Mr. Hitchcock had no statement to make in regard to the Hughes matter or the business considered at the conference. It was said, however, that the return trip on the yacht had been made slowly in order that Mr. Hitchcock and Mr. Sherman could confer in relation to campaign work, and that Mr. Sherman would remain over night in the city and visit national headquarters.

Regardless of the fact that no statement was issued by Mr. Hitchcock, it was stated here that the sentiment voiced at the gathering was favorable to the renomination of Governor Hughes.

ANNEXATION TREATY.

Congo Convention Adopted by Belgian Chamber of Deputies.

Brussels, Aug. 21.—After several months of bitter struggle, the chamber of deputies adopted the Congo annexation treaty by 83 votes to 55, and although the action probably will insure the solution of the great Congo problem, there still remains open the important question of Belgium's financial responsibility.

This action on the part of the chamber had not been expected and at the last moment nearly caused the collapse of the cabinet. During the first reading recently of the colonial bill, which provides for the administration of the Congo Independent State, and which with the treaty was finally adopted, Herr Woeste, leader of the Right, secured the adoption of an amendment relieving Belgium of the responsibility of guaranteeing the payment of the interest on the Congo debt, but Wednesday the government made a determined effort to secure the restoration of the stipulation that Belgium would make advances to Congo in case of necessity. The government was defeated in this, however, and it was generally believed that the ministers would be forced to resign.

At the conclusion of a long meeting of King Leopold and the members of his cabinet it was announced that the ministry would not resign, the government temporarily accepting the chamber's action on the financial question.

Fires Under Control.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 21.—Most of the forest fires in this district are under control, but damage is still being done on standing timber. Not any settlements are believed to be in danger.

INFLAMED BY A FALSE REPORT

Excitement Again Ran High in Springfield, Ill.

BOY ACCIDENTALLY WOUNDED

And Rumor Spread to the Effect That He Had Been Shot by Friends of an Accused Negro—Two Alleged Mob Leaders Are Indicted—One of Them Is a Woman.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 21.—Springfield was inflamed by a report that Rolla Keys, a seventeen-year-old boy who testified before the special grand jury when that body indicted George Richardson for an alleged assault upon Mrs. Mabel Hallam, had been shot by friends of the accused negro. Before the rumor had time to spread far, however, it was learned that the shooting was accidental, the wound having been inflicted by a bullet from a revolver belonging to a companion of Keys. The boy is so seriously injured that he may not recover.

Because of the excitement caused by the first reports of the accident, extra precaution was taken to prevent the gathering of crowds.

The occurrence caused fresh fears in the "Black Belt." The arsenal was crowded with refugees again and there was also a large number of negroes who slept under the protection of a guard from the Seventh regiment at Camp Lincoln.

Ten indictments against two of the alleged mob leaders here were returned by the special grand jury of Sangamon county. Six of these are against Abraham Raymor and four are against Kate Howard. Raymor is charged with murder, four cases of malicious mischief and one of riot. The charges against the Howard woman are for malicious mischief and are identical with those against Raymor on these counts. The murder charge against Raymor is based on his alleged participation in the lynching of William Donigan, the eighty-year-old negro who fell a victim to the mob's fury on Saturday night. Considerable of the evidence upon which this was voted was secured by a military court of inquiry which has been sitting under the direction of Lieutenant Colonel Chipperfield of the First cavalry, and which turned over to the state's attorney the result of its investigations.

"We secured enough evidence to indict forty or fifty participants in last week's rioting," said Colonel Chipperfield. "We have practically a complete confession from Raymor and we have also discovered convincing evidence of arson on the part of a former police officer of Springfield. The evidence is not only available for grand jury work, but it is also of such a character that convictions are almost bound to follow its presentation in court. I will stand sponsor for that statement."

SEVENTY-SIX PERISHED.

In Explosion and Fire in Maypole Mine in England.

Wigan, Eng., Aug. 21.—It is now known that seventy-six miners perished in the explosion and the fire that followed it in the Maypole mine. Finding that it would be impossible to recover the bodies still in the pit, the fire having taken such a firm hold, the directors decided to flood the mine.

Jurors Prayed for Guidance.

St. Louis, Aug. 21.—Kneeling in supplicant attitude beside their cots before retiring at night, each member of a St. Louis county jury at Clayton, which was deliberating in the case of Wash Woods, a negro charged with murder, offered prayer, asking divine guidance in arriving at a verdict. On the first ballot taken in the morning Woods was acquitted.

It's the style

Of our suits that Counts.

Wearing qualities are there too

The very first thing that you demand in a suit is style. No matter how well it may be tailored, or how good the materials, it will have none of your attention if the element of the latest style is missing.

It is this fact that makes our suits so very desirable. We have discriminated in our buying until every garment that we show embodies the latest vogues. No suit gains entrance in our stocks until it has the lines that Fashion demands. We also demand that every suit be tailored in the very best manner and made of the very best cloths.

We are quite willing to show you this line if you have not seen it

INTEREST IN CASE OF HAINS BROTHERS

Centers in Contradictory Statements by Lawyers.

New York, Aug. 21.—Interest in the case of the Hains brothers, now awaiting indictment and trial in the Queen's county jail for the murder of William E. Annis last Saturday, centers in various contradictory statements issued by the lawyers for Captain Peter C. Hains and his brother, Thornton J. Hains, and by those having charge of the interests of Mrs. Hains, the captain's wife.

Frank G. Wild, Mrs. Hains attorney, issued a formal denial of the allegations made against his client, insisting that signed confessions to the contrary notwithstanding Mrs. Hains had never been guilty of improper conduct with Annis.

As to a published story to the effect that his client was trying to effect a reconciliation with her husband and would testify in his behalf at the trial, Mr. Wild was equally positive. His client has never considered a reconciliation as possible, he said.

Weldon C. Percy, the first lawyer called in to defend Captain Hains and his brother, refused to comment on the various statements. In respect to the much exploited incident of the automobile ride on which Captain Hains took Annis just after his return from the Philippines, however, Mr. Percy threw a new light.

"The captain," said he, "returned with the conviction that all the gossip connecting Annis and his wife was absolutely without foundation. He invited Annis to dinner at the fort. That night Annis came to the fort with his wife and after dinner the four—Mrs. Hains, the captain and Mr. and Mrs. Annis—went out together on an automobile ride. Subsequent to that the captain discovered the truth."

PLACED UNDER ARREST.

Two Women Charged With Complicity in Double Murder.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 21.—Mrs. Morris Stein and Mrs. Reuben Bayard have been placed under arrest here. They are the wife and mother-in-law of Morris Stein, who was one of the victims in the double shooting in Lou denville, O., last Friday.

The Des Moines police department was asked to detain Mrs. Stein and her mother on a charge of complicity in the double murder of Morris Stein and Miss Hester Porter.

JOHNSON WILL ACCEPT.

Governor of Minnesota Will Run for the Third Time.

St. Paul, Aug. 21.—Defeated in his attempt to stem the tide which was carrying him to nomination at the head of the state Democratic ticket, Governor Johnson left for Ohio to take up his Chautauqua lectures.

Dropping his work on the lecture platform a few days ago to return to the battlefield of Democratic politics, he goes East again as one of the few men in the history of the State of Minnesota who have been nominated three times for governor.

Governor Johnson told reporters that he had decided to accept the nomination which the party had forced upon him. He said directly that the acceptance was opposed to his personal wishes, and that he took up the battle merely in the line of duty to his party.

Lynching in Prospect.

Vernon Center, Minn., Aug. 21.—Afoot and on horseback, in buggies and in automobiles, residents of Blue Earth county are searching for an unidentified man who seized and chloroformed and then assaulted Edith Saulsbury, a young girl on a farm near here. If the fugitive is captured, say the searchers, he will "stretch hemp."

DOCK LABORERS FIGHT.

Five Men Injured in Small Race War in Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—In a fight between white and black dock laborers five men were injured and the police only restored order after a free use of their clubs and by threats to shoot. The feeling against the negro laborers reached a climax when some of the whites declared they would not work unless the negroes quit. This the negroes refused to do and a quarrel resulted between Hugh Brady, white, and Louis Hawkins, colored. The negro drew a knife and stabbed Brady in the neck and arm, whereupon the fighting became general. Patrol wagons filled with policemen were rushed to the docks. The policemen charged the rioters and arrested Hawkins and further trouble was averted.

You Can Test the Kidneys

Let the urine stand for twenty four hours and if at the end of that time there are deposits of a brick dust variety or if the water becomes smoky and cloudy you may be sure the kidneys are deranged.

Another very marked symptom of kidney disease is pain in the small of the back.

The letter quoted below tells how these symptoms were overcome and kidney disease cured by Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. Because of their direct and combined action on both liver and bowels these pills cure the most complicated cases.

Mr. W. H. Cook, R. F. D. No. 4, Lodi, Wis., writes:—"For many years I was troubled with kidney disease and several doctors told me my conditions was very serious but they could not cure me. Then I turned to Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills with excellent results. The sediment disappeared from the urine, the pains left the back and loins and I am feeling well."

ROBBINS, THE QUARTER MILER

William C. Robbins, the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. quarter miler, the first of the American trio to arrive home that figured in that memorable 400 meter race at the Olympic games at London. In speaking of the event said: "Mike Murphy, the trainer, said for me to run my own race and said the same to Carpenter and Taylor before we were called to the line and added, 'May one of you, and the best man, win.'"

"I darted into the pole in the first fifty yards and carried my flight of speed all the way. Rounding the turn I was leading. When halfway round the bend I noticed a man come from the outside of the track and yell to the others behind me that it was no race. I kept going, however, and entered the stretch in the lead, with both Carpenter and Halswelle following close to me.

"Carpenter passed me on the outside and of course carried the Britisher out with him. We three raced for a good distance on even terms until Carpenter finally passed me. Halswelle also headed me for a short way out, but when I saw he was tiring I set out to get second or better, and in the last fifty yards I passed him and finished second to Carpenter.

"The latter never ran a fairer race, and it was a great surprise to me when I heard Carpenter had been disqualified. I never had a better race in my life, and it was simply a race all the way. At least that is what I made it. Going to the dressing rooms after the race, Taylor told me that he was simply run off his feet and could not have given either Carpenter, Halswelle or myself a battle. He said that Halswelle also acted the same, as the Britisher's running in the last part of the race was an evidence that he had been run into the earth.

"Halswelle himself is a good fellow, and neither I nor any of us has anything to say against him. It was believed by many that he had gone stale. It was reported that Carpenter did better than 48 seconds for the distance, and, judging from what I did in my semifinal heat, which was recorded in 49 seconds, it must have been so, for I ran faster, and he beat me good."

BET ON WOODCHOPPER.

C. H. Treat and Others Wager $10,000 With Maxwell Everts.

With wagers of nearly $10,000 on deposit, Maxwell Everts, son of the late Senator Everts of Vermont and chief counsel of the Southern Pacific Railway company, will take twenty guests to Amsden, Vt., on Sept. 26 to prove that a Vermont man is the greatest woodchopper in the world and that he can chop, split and pile five cords of wood in a day.

The wagers were made at a dinner in the New Willard hotel, in Washington, a few days ago. Mr. Everts, who is interested in several big timber propositions in Vermont, was boasting of a man—Ed Moote by name—who worked for him and who could chop, split and pile thirty cords of wood in a week.

"Nonsense," was the response he met with. He stood firm, and pretty soon offers to bet were made. Charles H. Treat, treasurer of the United States, bet $5,000 that Moote couldn't chop and split five cords in a day. Several prominent senators also made bets, and Mr. Treat agreed to keep the money until the wager was decided. Mr. Everts got in communication with L. C. White of the Amsden Lumber company, which Mr. Everts controls, and arrangements were made to take the party to Amsden to witness the feat. Sept. 26 was agreed on, and the village hotel in its entirety was reserved to care for the twenty guests Mr. Everts said he could bring in addition to the men who made the wagers.

"SOMEBODY HAS BEEN SMOKING"

Supt. Strachan Thus Characterizes Reports That Road is to be Turned Over

BROOKS DENIES REPORTED SALE

Says that there is Absolutely no Foundation for Story of Power Site Sale

Superintendent W. H. Strachan and General Auditor Downie were seen last night by a DISPATCH representative after their return from a trip over the Minnesota & International railroad with President Elliott, Second Vice President Hannaford, Land Commissioner Cooper, of the Northern Pacific, General Manager Gemmell of the Minnesota & International and D. C. Sheppard and Mr. Dean, of St. Paul. When their attention was called to the rumors which the presence of so many officials here had caused, to the effect that the Minnesota & International railroad was to be turned over to the Northern Pacific in the immediate future, Mr. Strachan remarked, "Someone has been smoking again." Mr. Downie, whose department would be vitally affected by such change stated that in the three days trip up the line he did not hear that matter even mentioned. The trip was for entirely other reasons and concerned entirely different matters.

Thursday evening's Minneapolis Journal contains a point blank denial from W. L. Brooks, of the Backus-Brooks company, of the report that they had sold or were negotiating the sale of their International Falls water power proposition. Mr. Brooks stated that they were making arrangements to complete the dam as they had started it, under their own control.

The attention of THE DISPATCH representative was called by a Minnesota & International railroad official to the fact that the reports of sale were given as coming from the head of a competing road and competing townsite, which in itself made them look fishy.

OX CART AT STATE FAIR

Historical Pioneer Vehicle to Take Part in the Fort Ridgely Production

In the olden days when Minnesota was a territory the Red river cart with its plodding yoke of oxen was a sight common enough in any of the settled or semi-settled portions of what is now the state of Minnesota, but it has been a good many years since this leisurely mode of locomotion has been resorted to. Historians say that it has been over thirty-five years since a Red river cart has traveled the streets of the twin cities, but such a cart will be on the grounds of the Minnesota state fair this year.

The oxen and cart are part and parcel of the "Fort Ridgely in '62" production now being built on the state fair grounds in preparation for the great historical spectacle which is to be presented each evening of August 31 to Sept. 5 in front of the grandstand with 300 Sioux Indians and 600 white men participating.

ENGINE JUMPED TRACK

No 31 Delayed Several Hours at Mizpah Last Night by Derailment Near Mizpah

The north bound passenger train on the Minnesota & International Thursday did not reach International Falls in time for the equipment to start back on schedule time this morning. The engine jumped the track a couple of miles north of Mizpah and the front trucks of the mail car followed. There was no one hurt and they were replaced and the train continued on its way. The south bound passenger arrived one hour late today because of the delay.

HAS STARTED A STOCK PILE

Rogers-Brown Ore Company Is Now Taking Out Iron Ore at Rabbit Lake

WILL SINK SHAFT 80 FEET

When at Depth in Ore Body Cross Cutting Will be Commenced at the Mine

The actual mining of iron ore on the Cuyuna range has at last begun. The Rogers-Brown Ore company has started the accumulation of a stock pile at its Rabbit lake shaft. According to the statements of one of the best known and best posted men on the range, who however did not wish his name mentioned, the shaft will be sunk 80 feet in the ore after which they will cross cut and commence taking out the ore in larger quantities. When asked as to when the Northern Pacific would have a spur built to the line the gentleman smiled and said he "could not express an opinion."

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." H. P. Dunn. mwf

FIRE PREVENTION WHAT IS NEEDED

Geo. H. Stratton, Special Agent of Western Reserve Company so Believes

MORE CARE SHOULD BE TAKEN

Geo. H. Stratton, of St. Louis, special agent for Iowa, Minnesota and the Dakotas for the Western Reserve Insurance company, of Cleveland, Ohio, was in the city today and was discussing fire insurance in general and as concerns Brainerd.

Mr. Stratton is a believer in prevention of fires as the only successful method of keeping fire losses down. He spoke especially of Ohio, in which almost a revolution in the matter of fire losses had been achieved through a system of state fire marshals whose business it is to not only look after the conditions of the buildings and premises in cities but to ferret out and prosecute persons guilty of arson. They and the insurance companies, he says must have the moral backing of the committee in order to do successful work.

Among the preventable causes of fire he mentions poor electric wiring, careless storing of oil, etc., but more potent than any other he considers neglect of heating apparatus.

He says that few fires start from the fuel rooms of large buildings, in his judgment, but many arise through the breeching or smoke pipe to heating plants. So long as the furnace will burn no attention is paid to this part of the plant. It becomes filled with soot and eaten with creosote until when least expected the soot catches fire, the pipe crumbles and the fire escapes.

He urges that every heating plant be thoroughly inspected before firing up in the fall as the first cold snap is invariably followed by a wave of fires. This should extend to the stoves and pipes of small dwellings as well as to larger structures.

Mr. Stratton also advocates the inspection of all basements in the business district at least once a month by some official who has power to enforce his orders.

Incidentally he stated that the percentages of fire loss in European countries were less than one tenth of those in America. This in part he ascribes to better systems of buildings but more because of the carelessness of the American people.

No one is immune from kidney trouble, so just remember that Foley's Kidney Remedy will stop the irregularities and cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble that is not beyond the reach of medicine. H. P. Dunn. mwf

J. F. SMART,
County Auditor.

To the King's Taste.

We learn in "Leaves From the Journal of Sir George Smart" that when Sir George, who was chorister at the Chapel Royal, arranged the musical programme at the opening of the new London bridge in 1831 his chief attraction was a glee party.

Immediately after the glee party had sung "God Save the King" in the tent in which the king and queen were seated two unknown persons in costume a man and his wife, stepped forward, and to Sir George's infinite disgust the man played "God Save the King" with his knuckles on his chin, accompanied by his wife's voice.

The king called Sir George to him and asked who they were. Sir George by that time knew the name of the performers and gave it, adding that he was sorry they had intruded without permission.

"Oh, no intrusion!" said the king. "It was charming. Tell them to perform again."

So Sir George had to tell the performers that their number was endorsed by royal command, and to their great delight and to the chagrin of Sir George they repeated it.

"At The Unique"

A good crowd greeted the new bill at the Unique last evening. The song "If They all Had a Heart Like You," was handsomely illustrated and was beautifully sung by Miss Kathleen Graham. The motion pictures were clear and distinct as is always the case in the Unique. The comic was represented by "Weary Waggles," "Busy Day" and "A Complicated Duel." "The Renegade" was dramatic and "In a Submarine" was an imaginary portrayal of the contortions of the crew of a submarine which sank and could not rise again.

VACATION BY PROXY.

One Man Who Couldn't Get Away Provides Outing For Six.

A novel way of taking a vacation has been invented by a New York man, as suggested by the following letter to a charitable organization:

Mr. R. S. Minton, Treasurer, Association For Improving the Condition of the Poor, 105 East Twenty-second Street, New York City:

Dear Sir:—As it is uncertain whether I can get any outing this summer, I will take one by "proxy," letting you act as my agent.

I can at least imagine I am taking in the cool sea breezes while some one needing it more is getting the worth of the $5 inclosed for your fresh air work. Very truly yours, F. H. S.

For this proxy vacation the officers of the Association For Improving the Condition of the Poor sent the six guests for a week at Sea Breeze home, on Coney Island.

The Village Airsmith.

Over the spreading chestnut tree
The village airsmith floats.
He patches for a princely fee
Disabled aero boats.

Long years ago his grandad nailed
The shoes on horses' feet,
But when the equine foot game failed
The son fixed autos feet.

And when the auto craze gave way
And airships ruled the roost
The grandson, foxy in his day,
Just gave the shop a boost.

He floated it far o'er the town
Where grandad went to church,
And now the income he draws down
Leaves grandad's in the lurch.

So high above the chestnut tree
The busy forger now flares.
The smith—ah, who so gay as he
Or who with fewer cares?

These airship cogs and shafts and such
Cost muckle, muckle gold.
For each fad finds the fixer's touch
More shameless than of old.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Two earthquakes were recorded at the government observatory at Cheltenham, Md., within the past twenty-four hours. The first was a slight shock and lasted for nine minutes. The origin of this shock probably was within 200 miles of Cheltenham. The second earthquake lasted twenty-six minutes. The record indicates that this earthquake was of very distant origin.

Burning Wood.

Wood crackles when it is ignited because the air expanded by heat forces its way through the pores of the wood with a crackling noise. Green wood makes less snapping than dry because the pores contain less air, being filled with sap and moisture, which extinguish the flame, whereas the pores of dry wood are filled with air, which supports combustion.

Five Strong Reasons

Why painting in the fall is best

1. In the fall, the surface is thoroughly dry. During the spring a surface which needs repainting is sure to contain moisture and dampness or frost, and it cannot be successfully painted until it has thoroughly dried out.

2. When the wood is dry, it absorbs more of the paint; the paint penetrates deeper into the wood, therefore gets a firmer hold on it, giving the paint coating greater tenacity for holding qualities.

3. Paint cannot be as successfully applied in damp, cloudy or unsettled weather as in warm, sunny weather. In the fall the weather is more settled and uniform and is warmer, therefore it is an excellent time for painting.

4. A house needs its protective coat of paint more in the winter months than at any other time. A house in need of painting should never be allowed to go over the winter without this protection.

5. It is easier to keep the winter's moisture and dampness out by applying a coat of paint in the fall, when the surface is dry, than it is to get moisture or dampness out of the wood if you want to apply a coat of paint in the spring.

CHANGE MAY BE MADE IN PLANS

Judge Taft May Leave Cincinnati During Campaign.

WILLING TO MAKE SPEECHES

Republican Presidential Candidate Says He Would Enjoy Delivering One Address a Day—National Committee in Charge of All Arrangements.

Hot Springs, Va., Aug. 21.—"After the first week of any speaking campaign has been gone through with and one finds himself, as it were, talking without difficulty on all the various subjects of discussion, I don't think there is anything more enjoyable than making at least one speech a day."

This utterance by Judge Taft presents his attitude toward campaigning. He added that in the 1904 campaign he made speeches during a six-weeks' tour of New York and New England, "and I enjoyed every minute of it."

When asked if it were not a possibility that a change might be made on the announcement that he would not leave Cincinnati during the campaign, Mr. Taft replied:

"Of course, there is nothing to prevent a change in these plans."

Mr. Taft admitted that perhaps the strong reason for the official announcement that he should remain in his native city was to forestall the deluge of applications for his presence in various parts of the country, but these applications are coming just the same. Any change of plans affecting the candidate, however, it was stated, was a matter entirely with the national committee.

That Mr. Taft is entirely willing to accommodate himself to anything but a whirlwind campaign, as he puts it, was made plain. "There is no harder work," he added, "than making hurried speeches from the rear end of a train, and I doubt if such work is effective."

In Hands of the Committee.

Should it be finally decided that Mr. Taft shall make a campaign out of Cincinnati his itinerary it was explained would be arranged entirely by the national committee, leaving him entirely free from details.

Judge D. D. Woodmansee, judge of the common pleas court at Cincinnati, president in 1906 of the National League of Republican clubs and a cousin and old friend of Judge Taft, arrived here and gave out an interview regarding the decision of the Ohio state committee not to invite Senator Foraker to speak at the opening of the national campaign at Youngstown Sept. 5, in which he said:

"Aside from the fact that we have had many campaign openings in Ohio without our senator taking part, it can at once be understood that a very important question of party policy arose this year. Every one can appreciate that it was an embarrassing situation. Senator Foraker in his Chamber of Commerce speech, delivered in Cincinnati only a short time ago, made a severe attack on the policies of President Roosevelt. How could the party who intends to fight the campaign on the policies in the platform consistently invite him to take the most conspicuous part in the campaign? It was practically impossible and most of Senator Foraker's friends see it that way."

"I will yield to no one in my admiration for Senator Foraker. The splendid services that he has heretofore rendered in behalf of the Republican party cannot and must not be forgotten and no one shall regret more than myself if he finds it impossible to serve the party during this important campaign."

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.

Predicted by Former Vice President Stevenson.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic candidate for governor of Illinois, came to Chicago and conferred with National Chairman Mack. Mr. Stevenson's visit followed a luncheon tendered him by the Iroquois club, at which he predicted a Democratic victory in November.

Mr. Stevenson told the national chairman that from reports received by him he believed Illinois would go Democratic for both the gubernatorial and national tickets.

Mr. Stevenson will make several speeches in the state during the next two months and it is not unlikely that he may be called upon by the national committee to go outside his state on a short stumping tour.

Speaking of the Democratic outlook in the national campaign this year, Mr. Stevenson said at the Iroquois luncheon:

"Everywhere I have spoken I have found Democrats formerly antagonistic to Mr. Bryan with him now. If we put our shoulders to the wheel we will bring about a great Democratic victory in November."

SLUMP IN COTTON.

Causes Excitement in the New York Market.

New York, Aug. 21.—Excitement prevailed in the cotton market throughout the session, an almost uninterrupted and rapid decline in prices being the cause. The fall was most pronounced in the October option, that having been the principle vehicle for the recent big speculation for the advance, but the operations of other months suffered badly also, even the spot article, which had not been affected by the downward tendency of this week, yielding very sharply at last.

Closing the previous night at $9.18, October soon was off 37 points to $8.81, a decline of $5 a bale from the recent high price.

While this decline was in progress the engineers of the move were estimated to have been paid with fully 75,000 bales and their selling was even faster, bringing the total amount disposed of by them during the day to 200,000 bales more or less. About the only support the market received came from the covering of shorts. From $8.81, October eventually reached $8.58, but closed at $8.70 showing a net loss for the day of 48 points, or about $2.50 a bale. The near months, August and September held up for a while but at length were dragged considerable in sympathy.

The decline has been figured out variously in the street as meaning a loss of from $500,000 to $1,000,000 for the pool.

BRYAN STARTS ON SEVEN-DAYS' TRIP

Democratic Candidate Will Deliver Several Speeches.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 21.—William J. Bryan, Democratic candidate for the presidency, has left here on a seven-days' trip, in the course of which he will deliver several speeches and hold a three-days' conference with his campaign managers in Chicago. The first stop will be at Des Moines, Ia., where he will discuss the tariff question. Saturday, Sunday and a part of Monday he will spend in Chicago, and on Tuesday he will be present at the ratification in Indianapolis of John W. Kern, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, and upon which occasion he will speak on the subject of trusts. Two days later at Topeka, Kan., he will deal with the question of the guaranty of bank deposits and will return to Lincoln on Aug. 28.

Mr. Bryan held several long distance conferences over the telephone with his campaign manager, Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic committee, who is at the Democratic headquarters in Chicago. The subject matter of the talk with Mr. Mack was not disclosed.

SUDDENLY COLLAPSED.

Bishop McQuaid Became Ill at a Banquet.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 21.—At the close of the banquet, with which the exercises of the new hall of theology at St. Bernard's seminary was concluded, Bishop Bernard J. McQuaid suddenly collapsed and it was feared that death was imminent. The exercises involved the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the bishop's episcopate and the sixtieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. While Bishop McQuaid was speaking he suddenly said:

"I would like to say more, but I feel that my strength is failing me."

With this the bishop became pale and leaned back in his chair and became unconscious.

Coadjutor Bishop Thomas F. Hickey prepared to administer extreme unction, the sacrament of the last rites, but Bishop McQuaid regained consciousness within a few minutes and slowly revived. Dr. Simpson, his physician, said he was in no imminent danger of death.

A Sad Situation.
"It's all off. My girl's folks have moved into the house we just vacated. Love's dream is o'er."
"Why so?"
"Now, my people are not soaks, understand; but we have been living in that house for many years, and I guess we didn't leave less'n a thousand empty bottles behind. Oh, wow!"

Full of Them.
"Why do they say the cup that cheers?"
"Aw, a drunken man will hurrah for anything."

AMERICAN TARS LAND AT SYDNEY

Publicly Welcomed by the Officials of Australia.

MEN OF THE FLEET PARADE

Thirty-five Hundred of Them March Through the Streets to the Cheers of the Australians—Carry Arms, But No Ammunition.

Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 21.—Sydney was aglow with life and color, and surging thousands filled the streets as never before, for this was the day set for the official landing and for Australians to publicly welcome the bone and sinew of the visiting fleet officers and men.

No more triumphant entry of gallant vessels into a port was ever witnessed than when the warships pushed through the haze of sea and steamed majestically past the headlands, crowded with a cheering multitude. Later Australians had an opportunity to see the men who brought the ships in safety thus far on their voyage around the world.

From Farm Cove, where the landing occurred, throughout the lengthy line of march, the crowds gave enthusiastic welcome. Large bodies of men from all the ships were brought ashore in the morning in launches. They numbered close to 3,000. In sections they marched to the outer domain, which adjoins the botanical gardens, and formed upon allotted spaces fronting the reception pavilion. Then came the admirals and their staffs, who landed ashore on the east side of the cove, where a guard of honor from the British naval forces was drawn up. They were met by the prime minister, Alfred Deakin, and the other ministers of the commonwealth, the premier of New South Wales, and his ministers, the lord mayor of Sydney and members of the corporation.

Greeted by the Governor General.

Rear Admiral Sperry, commander of the fleet, inspected the naval guard and then, with the others, was driven to the reception pavilion in the domain, where he was greeted by Lord Northcote, governor general of Australia; Sir Harry Rawson, the governor of New South Wales, and the military and naval heads of the colony.

The scene was a brilliant and picturesque one. The grand pavilion was surmounted by a great golden eagle, glittering in the sunlight and the curved balustrades were inscribed with the names of the American states. The stands surrounding the pavilion seemed almost buried with flags, bunting and evergreens. These were occupied by the federal and state ministers, the members of the various branches of the legislature and government officials, many of whom were accompanied by ladies, whose gay costumes furnished vivid patches of color.

Lord Northcote on behalf of Australia extended the heartiest of welcomes to Admiral Sperry, his officers and men, and congratulated them warmly on the success of the voyage.

After greetings had been exchanged a procession was formed, the lord mayor and officials and the American admirals with their staffs occupying carriages. Thirty-five hundred men from the fleet took part in the procession. They carried arms, but no ammunition, in accordance with an arrangement which was made the night before.

The detachments from various ships were headed by color bearers and accompanied by the ships' bands. Their marching was commented upon with admiration, and they were cheered on every hand. All the streets along the route were profusely decorated and lined with federal troops and police. On the return to the domain the visitors were entertained at luncheon. The whole city turned out to do them honor and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed.

BREAKS FOUR RECORDS.

Lusitania Makes Fastest Trip Across the Atlantic.

New York, Aug. 21.—The Cunard liner Lusitania has finished a sensational run across the Atlantic and when the official figures for the trip became available after the liner had anchored outside the bar for the night it developed that the big turbiner had not only lowered all records for the transatlantic voyage by nearly four hours, but that she had also broken three other records.

She made the passage across the Atlantic in just 4 days and 15 hours. The best previous record, made by her on Nov. 8, last, was 4 days, 18 hour and 40 minutes, her new performance lowering the previous mark by 3 hours and 40 minutes.

On the whole trip of 2,718 miles, the Lusitania made an average speed of 25.05 knots an hour, a new record, the previous one being 25.01, made by her on her record trip last November. The third record broken is that for the greatest day's run—650 knots up to noon of Aug. 17—in which run she also set a new pace in steaming an average of 25.66 knots for the 24 hours.

FAVOR RENOMINATION OF GOVERNOR HUGHES

Prominent Republicans Confer at Oyster Bay.

New York, Aug. 21.—Contrary to expectations, no announcement was made by Frank Hitchcock, chairman of the Republican national committee, as to the sentiment developed at the Oyster Bay conference for or against the renomination of Governor Hughes. Mr. Hitchcock and James S. Sherman, the Republican candidate for vice president, returned to New York on the yacht of George J. Smith, the treasurer of the New York state committee, in the same manner they were taken to Oyster Bay.

Not only did Mr. Hitchcock fail to give out any statement, but he went to his apartments at the Manhattan hotel without seeing any newspaper men.

Mr. Williams, secretary to Mr. Hitchcock, said that Mr. Hitchcock had no statement to make in regard to the Hughes matter or the business considered at the conference. It was said, however, that the return trip on the yacht had been made slowly in order that Mr. Hitchcock and Mr. Sherman could confer in relation to campaign work, and that Mr. Sherman would remain over night in the city and visit national headquarters.

Regardless of the fact that no statement was issued by Mr. Hitchcock, it was stated here that the sentiment voiced at the gathering was favorable to the renomination of Governor Hughes.

ANNEXATION TREATY.

Congo Convention Adopted by Belgian Chamber of Deputies.

Brussels, Aug. 21.—After several months of bitter struggle, the chamber of deputies adopted the Congo annexation treaty by 83 votes to 55, and although the action probably will insure the solution of the great Congo problem, there still remains open the important question of Belgium's financial responsibility.

This action on the part of the chamber had not been expected and at the last moment nearly caused the collapse of the cabinet. During the first reading recently of the colonial bill, which provides for the administration of the Congo Independent State, and which with the treaty was finally adopted, Herr Woeste, leader of the Right, secured the adoption of an amendment relieving Belgium of the responsibility of guaranteeing the payment of the interest on the Congo debt, but Wednesday the government made a determined effort to secure the restoration of the stipulation that Belgium would make advances to Congo in case of necessity. The government was defeated in this, however, and it was generally believed that the ministers would be forced to resign.

At the conclusion of a long meeting of King Leopold and the members of his cabinet it was announced that the ministry would not resign, the government temporarily accepting the chamber's action on the financial question.

INFLAMED BY A FALSE REPORT

Excitement Again Ran High in Springfield, Ill.

BOY ACCIDENTALLY WOUNDED

And Rumor Spread to the Effect That He Had Been Shot by Friends of an Accused Negro—Two Alleged Mob Leaders Are Indicted—One of Them Is a Woman.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 21.—Springfield was inflamed by a report that Rolla Keys, a seventeen-year-old boy who testified before the special grand jury when that body indicted George Richardson for an alleged assault upon Mrs. Mabel Hallam, had been shot by friends of the accused negro. Before the rumor had time to spread far, however, it was learned that the shooting was accidental, the wound having been inflicted by a bullet from a revolver belonging to a companion of Keys. The boy is so seriously injured that he may not recover.

Because of the excitement caused by the first reports of the accident, extra precaution was taken to prevent the gathering of crowds.

The occurrence caused fresh fears in the "Black Belt." The arsenal was crowded with refugees again and there was also a large number of negroes who slept under the protection of a guard from the Seventh regiment at Camp Lincoln.

Ten indictments against two of the alleged mob leaders here were returned by the special grand jury of Sangamon county. Six of these are against Abraham Raymor and four are against Kate Howard. Raymor is charged with murder, four cases of malicious mischief and one of riot. The charges against the Howard woman are for malicious mischief and are identical with those against Raymor on these counts. The murder charge against Raymor is based on his alleged participation in the lynching of William Donigan, the eighty-year-old negro who fell a victim to the mob's fury on Saturday night. Considerable of the evidence upon which this was voted was secured by a military court of inquiry which has been sitting under the direction of Lieutenant Colonel Chipperfield of the First cavalry, and which turned over to the state's attorney the result of its investigations.

"We secured enough evidence to indict forty or fifty participants in last week's rioting," said Colonel Chipperfield. "We have practically a complete confession from Raymor and we have also discovered convincing evidence of arson on the part of a former police officer of Springfield. The evidence is not only available for grand jury work, but it is also of such a character that convictions are almost bound to follow its presentation in court. I will stand sponsor for that statement."

SEVENTY-SIX PERISHED.

In Explosion and Fire in Maypole Mine in England.

Wigan, Eng., Aug. 21.—It is now known that seventy-six miners perished in the explosion and the fire that followed it in the Maypole mine. Finding that it would be impossible to recover the bodies still in the pit, the fire having taken such a firm hold, the directors decided to flood the mine.

Jurors Prayed for Guidance.

St. Louis, Aug. 21.—Kneeling in supplicant attitude beside their cots before retiring at night, each member of a St. Louis county jury at Clayton, which was deliberating in the case of Wash Woods, a negro charged with murder, offered prayer, asking divine guidance in arriving at a verdict. On the first ballot taken in the morning Woods was acquitted.

It's the style

Of our suits that Counts.

Wearing qualities are there too

The very first thing that you demand in a suit is style. No matter how well it may be tailored, or how good the materials, it will have none of your attention if the element of the latest style is missing.

It is this fact that makes our suits so very desirable. We have discriminated in our buying until every garment that we show embodies the latest vogues. No suit gains entrance in our stocks until it has the lines that Fashion demands. We also demand that every suit be tailored in the very best manner and made of the very best cloths.

We are quite willing to show you this line if you have not seen it

INTEREST IN CASE OF HAINS BROTHERS

Centers in Contradictory Statements by Lawyers.

New York, Aug. 21.—Interest in the case of the Hains brothers, now awaiting indictment and trial in the Queen's county jail for the murder of William E. Annis last Saturday, centers in various contradictory statements issued by the lawyers for Captain Peter C. Hains and his brother, Thornton J. Hains, and by those having charge of the interests of Mrs. Hains, the captain's wife.

Frank G. Wild, Mrs. Hains attorney, issued a formal denial of the allegations made against his client, insisting that signed confessions to the contrary notwithstanding Mrs. Hains had never been guilty of improper conduct with Annis.

As to a published story to the effect that his client was trying to effect a reconciliation with her husband and would testify in his behalf at the trial, Mr. Wild was equally positive. His client has never considered a reconciliation as possible, he said.

Weldon C. Percy, the first lawyer called in to defend Captain Hains and his brother refused to comment on the various statements. In respect to the much exploited incident of the automobile ride on which Captain Hains took Annis just after his return from the Philippines, however, Mr. Percy threw a new light.

"The captain," said he, "returned with the conviction that all the gossip connecting Annis and his wife was absolutely without foundation. He invited Annis to dinner at the fort. That night Annis came to the fort with his wife and after dinner the four—Mrs. Hains, the captain and Mr. and Mrs. Annis—went out together on an automobile ride. Subsequent to that the captain discovered the truth."

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 21.—Mrs. Morris Stein and Mrs. Reuben Bayard have been placed under arrest here. They are the wife and mother-in-law of Morris Stein, who was one of the victims in the double shooting in Louisville, O., last Friday.

The Des Moines police department was asked to detain Mrs. Stein and her mother on a charge of complicity in the double murder of Morris Stein and Miss Hester Porter.

JOHNSON WILL ACCEPT.

Governor of Minnesota Will Run for the Third Time.

St. Paul, Aug. 21.—Defeated in his attempt to stem the tide which was carrying him to nomination at the head of the state Democratic ticket, Governor Johnson left for Ohio to take up his Chautauqua lectures.

Dropping his work on the lecture platform a few days ago to return to the battlefield of Democratic politics, he goes East again as one of the few men in the history of the State of Minnesota who have been nominated three times for governor.

Governor Johnson told reporters that he had decided to accept the nomination which the party had forced upon him. He said directly that the acceptance was opposed to his personal wishes, and that he took up the battle merely in the line of duty to his party.

Lynching in Prospect.

Vernon Center, Minn., Aug. 21.—Afoot and on horseback, in buggies and in automobiles, residents of Blue Earth county are searching for an unidentified man who seized and chloroformed and then assaulted Edith Saulsbury, a young girl on a farm near here. If the fugitive is captured, say the searchers, he will "stretch hemp."

DOCK LABORERS FIGHT.

Five Men Injured in Small Race War in Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—In a fight between white and black dock laborers five men were injured and the police only restored order after a free use of their clubs and by threats to shoot. The feeling against the negro laborers reached a climax when some of the whites declared they would not work unless the negroes quit. This the negroes refused to do and a quarrel resulted between Hugh Brady, white, and Louis Hawkins, colored. The negro drew a knife and stabbed Brady in the neck and arm, whereupon the fighting became general. Patrol wagons filled with policemen were rushed to the docks. The policemen charged the rioters and arrested Hawkins and further trouble was averted.

You Can Test the Kidneys

Let the urine stand for twenty four hours and if at the end of that time there are deposits of a brick dust variety or if the water becomes smoky and cloudy you may be sure the kidneys are deranged.

Another very marked symptom of kidney disease is pain in the small of the back. The letter quoted below tells how these symptoms were overcome and kidney disease cured by Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. Because of their direct and combined action on both liver and bowels these pills cure the most complicated cases.

Mr. W. H. Cook, R. F. D. No. 4, Lodi, Wis., writes:—"For many years I was troubled with kidney disease and several doctors told me my conditions was very serious but they could not cure me. Then I turned to Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills with excellent results. The sediment disappeared from the urine, the pains left the back and loins and I am feeling well."

ROBBINS, THE QUARTER MILER

William C. Robbins, the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. quarter miler, the first of the American trio to arrive home that figured in that memorable 400 meter race at the Olympic games at London, in speaking of the event said: "Mike Murphy, the trainer, said for me to run my own race and said the same to Carpenter and Taylor before we were called to the line and added, 'May one of you, and the best man, win.'"

"I darted into the pole in the first fifty yards and carried my flight of speed all the way. Rounding the turn I was leading. When halfway round the bend I noticed a man come from the outside of the track and yell to the others behind me that it was no race. I kept going, however, and entered the stretch in the lead, with both Carpenter and Halswelle following close to me.

"Carpenter passed me on the outside and of course carried the Britisher out with him. We three raced for a good distance on even terms until Carpenter finally passed me. Halswelle also headed me for a short way out, but when I saw he was tiring I set out to get second or better, and in the last fifty yards I passed him and finished second to Carpenter.

"The latter never ran a fairer race, and it was a great surprise to me when I heard Carpenter had been disqualified. I never had a better race in my life, and it was simply a race all the way. At least that is what I made it. Going to the dressing rooms after the race, Taylor told me that he was simply run off his feet and could not have given either Carpenter, Halswelle or myself a battle. He said that Halswelle also acted the same, as the Britisher's running in the last part of the race was an evidence that he had been run into the earth.

"Halswelle himself is a good fellow, and neither I nor any of us has anything to say against him. It was believed by many that he had gone stale. It was reported that Carpenter did better than 48 seconds for the distance, and, judging from what I did in my semifinal heat, which was recorded in 49 seconds, it must have been so, for I ran faster, and he beat me good."

BET ON WOODCHOPPER.

C. H. Treat and Others Wager $10,000 With Maxwell Everts.

With wagers of nearly $10,000 on deposit, Maxwell Everts, son of the late Senator Everts of Vermont and chief counsel of the Southern Pacific Railway company, will take twenty guests to Amsteden, Vt., on Sept. 26 to prove that a Vermont man is the greatest woodchopper in the world and that he can chop, split and pile five cords of wood in a day.

The wagers were made at a dinner in the New Willard hotel, in Washington, a few days ago. Mr. Everts, who is interested in several big timber propositions in Vermont, was boasting of a man—Ed Moote by name—who worked for him and who could chop, split and pile thirty cords of wood in a week.

"Nonsense," was the response he met with. He stood firm, and pretty soon offers to bet were made. Charles H. Treat, treasurer of the United States, bet $5,000 that Moote couldn't chop and split five cords in a day. Several prominent senators also made bets, and Mr. Treat agreed to keep the money until the wager was decided. Mr. Everts got in communication with L. C. White of the Amsteden Lime company, which Mr. Everts controls, and arrangements were made to take the party to Amsteden to witness the feat. Sept. 26 was agreed on, and the village hotel in its entirety was reserved to care for the twenty guests Mr. Everts said he could bring in addition to the men who made the wagers.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics. Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child, if there is feverishness, night or day. Herein probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in 6c boxes for the pocket, also in 25c boxes of 48 Preventics. Insist on your druggists giving you

"SOMEBODY HAS BEEN SMOKING"

Supt. Strachan Thus Characterizes Reports That Road is to be Turned Over

BROOKS DENIES REPORTED SALE

Says that there is Absolutely no Foundation for Story of Power Site Sale

Superintendent W. H. Strachan and General Auditor Downie were seen last night by a DISPATCH representative after their return from a trip over the Minnesota & International railroad with President Elliott, Second Vice President Hannaford, Land Commissioner Cooper, of the Northern Pacific, General Manager Gemmell of the Minnesota & International and D. C. Shepard and Mr. Dean, of St. Paul. When their attention was called to the rumors which the presence of so many officials here had caused, to the effect that the Minnesota & International railroad was to be turned over to the Northern Pacific in the immediate future, Mr. Strachan remarked, "Someone has been smoking again." Mr. Downie, whose department would be vitally affected by such change stated that in the three days trip up the line he did not hear that matter even mentioned. The trip was for entirely other reasons and concerned entirely different matters.

Thursday evening's Minneapolis Journal contains a point blank denial from W. L. Brooks, of the Backus-Brooks company, of the report that they had sold or were negotiating the sale of their International Falls water power proposition. Mr. Brooks stated that they were making arrangements to complete the dam as they had started it, under their own control.

The attention of THE DISPATCH representative was called by a Minnesota & International railroad official to the fact that the reports of sale were given as coming from the head of a competing road and competing townsites, which in itself made them look fishy.

OX CART AT STATE FAIR

Historical Pioneer Vehicle to Take Part in the Fort Ridgely Production

In the olden days when Minnesota was a territory the Red river cart with its plodding yoke of oxen was a sight common enough in any of the settled or semi-settled portions of what is now the state of Minnesota, but it has been a good many years since this leisurely mode of locomotion has been resorted to. Historians say that it has been over thirty-five years since a Red river cart has traveled the streets of the twin cities, but such a cart will be on the grounds of the Minnesota state fair this year.

The oxen and cart are part and parcel of the "Fort Ridgely in '62" production now being built on the state fair grounds in preparation for the great historical spectacle which is to be presented each evening of August 31 to Sept. 5 in front of the grandstand with 300 Sioux Indians and 600 white men participating.

ENGINE JUMPED TRACK

No. 31 Delayed Several Hours at Mizpah Last Night by Derailment Near Mizpah

The north bound passenger train on the Minnesota & International Thursday did not reach International Falls in time for the equipment to start back on schedule time this morning. The engine jumped the track a couple of miles north of Mizpah and the front trucks of the mail car followed. There was no one hurt and they were replaced and the train continued on its way. The south bound passenger arrived one hour late today because of the delay.

HAS STARTED A STOCK PILE

Rogers-Brown Ore Company is Now Taking Out Iron Ore at Rabbit Lake

WILL SINK SHAFT 80 FEET

When at Depth in Ore Body Cross Cutting Will be Commenced at the Mine

The actual mining of iron ore on the Cuyuna range has at last begun. The Rogers-Brown Ore company has started the accumulation of a stock pile at its Rabbit lake shaft. According to the statements of one of the best known and best posted men on the range, who however did not wish his name mentioned, the shaft will be sunk 80 feet in the ore after which they will cross cut and commence taking out the ore in larger quantities. When asked as to when the Northern Pacific would have a spur built to the line the gentleman smiled and said he "could not express an opinion."

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." H. P. Dunn. mwf

A. Everett will move the building. This will be a large undertaking and amount to more than the purchase price of the building which was at a decided bargain.

FIRE PREVENTION WHAT IS NEEDED

Geo. H. Stratton, Special Agent of Western Reserve Company so Believes

MORE CARE SHOULD BE TAKEN

Geo. H. Stratton, of St. Louis, special agent for Iowa, Minnesota and the Dakotas for the Western Reserve Insurance company, of Cleveland, Ohio, was in the city today and was discussing fire insurance in general and as concerns Brainerd.

Mr. Stratton is a believer in prevention of fires as the only successful method of keeping fire losses down. He spoke especially of Ohio, in which almost a revolution in the matter of fire losses had been achieved through a system of state fire marshals whose business it is to not only look after the conditions of the buildings and premises in cities but to ferret out and prosecute persons guilty of arson. They and the insurance companies, he says must have the moral backing of the committee in order to do successful work.

Among the preventable causes of fire he mentions poor electric wiring, careless storing of oil, etc., but more potent than any other he considers neglect of heating apparatus.

He says that few fires start from the fuel rooms of large buildings, in his judgment, but many arise through the breeching or smoke pipe to heating plants. So long as the furnace will burn no attention is paid to this part of the plant. It becomes filled with soot and eaten with creosote until when least expected the soot catches fire, the pipe crumbles and the fire escapes.

He urges that every heating plant be thoroughly inspected before firing up in the fall as the first cold snap is invariably followed by a wave of fires. This should extend to the stoves and pipes of small dwellings as well as to larger structures.

Mr. Stratton also advocates the inspection of all basements in the business district at least once a month by some official who has power to enforce his orders.

Incidentally he stated that the percentages of fire loss in European countries were less than one tenth of those in America. This in part he ascribes to better systems of buildings but more because of the carelessness of the American people.

No one is immune from kidney trouble, so just remember that Foley's Kidney Remedy will stop the irregularities and cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble that is not beyond the reach of medicine. H. P. Dunn. mwf

To the King's Taste.

We learn in "Leaves From the Journal of Sir George Smart" that when Sir George, who was chorister at the Chapel Royal, arranged the musical programme at the opening of the new London bridge in 1831 his chief attraction was a glee party.

Immediately after the glee party had sung "God Save the King" in the tent in which the king and queen were seated two unknown persons in costume, a man and his wife, stepped forward, and to Sir George's infinite disgust the man played "God Save the King" with his knuckles on his chin, accompanied by his wife's voice.

The king called Sir George to him and asked who they were. Sir George by that time knew the name of the performers and gave it, adding that he was sorry they had intruded without permission.

"Oh, no intrusion!" said the king. "It was charming. Tell them to perform again."

So Sir George had to tell the performers that their number was endorsed by royal command, and to their great delight and to the chagrin of Sir George they repeated it.

"At The Unique"

A good crowd greeted the new bill at at the Unique last evening. The song "If They all Had a Heart Like You," was handsomely illustrated and was beautiful sung by Miss Kathleen Graham. The motion pictures were clear and distinct as is always the case in the Unique. The comic was represented by "Weary Waggles," "Busy Day" and "A Complicated Duel." "The Renegade" was dramatic and "In a Submarine" was an imaginary portrayal of the contortions of the crew of a submarine which sank and could not rise again.

Cat and the Fiddle

An entertaining musical treat is promised at the opera house, Aug. 25, when "The Cat and the Fiddle" will be presented. The organization is said to be one the largest yet seen here, numbering 40 people. The play is new and up to the second. It is full of bright hits and the musical portion is of superior character. The vaudeville part is in the hands of some very good people and includes the famous Elmore Sisters, Blanche Buhler, Elaine Frohman, Florence Willis, Chas. A. Sellon and many other celebrities.

Rocky Mountain Express

"The Rocky Mountain Express" is bound to arrive on time at the Opera house on Aug. 24, as the red light will be hung out from the above station on that date; there is no chance of her being side-tracked or abandoned, as she will run on special orders and come in on the fast track. This should be the signal for a big turn-out, as "The Rocky Mountain Express" will bring to town a theatrical company of decided merit, and a production of importance.

VACATION BY PROXY.

One Man Who Couldn't Get Away Provides Outing For Six.

A novel way of taking a vacation has been invented by a New York man, as suggested by the following letter to a charitable organization: Mr. R. S. Minton, Treasurer, Association For Improving the Condition of the Poor, 105 East Twenty-second Street, New York City:

Dear Sir—As it is uncertain whether I can get any outing this summer, I will take one by "proxy," letting you act as my agent.

I can at least imagine I am taking in the cool sea breezes while some one needing it more is getting the worth of the $15 inclosed for your fresh air work. Very truly yours, F. H. S.

For this proxy vacation the officers of the Association For Improving the Condition of the Poor sent the six guests for a week at Sea Breeze home, on Coney Island.

The Village Airsmith.

Over the spreading chestnut tree The village airsmith floats. He patches for a princely fee Disabled aero boats.

Long years ago his grandad nailed The shoes on horses' feet, But when the equine foot game faded The son fixed autos feet.

And when the auto craze gave way And airships ruled the roost The grandson, foxy in his day, Just gave the shop a boost.

He floated it far o'er the town Where grandad went to church, And now the income he drags down Leaves grandad's in the lurch.

So high above the chestnut tree The busy forge now flares. The smith—ah, who so gay as he Or who with fewer cares?

These airship cogs and shafts and such Cost muckle, muckle gold, For each fad finds the fixer's touch More shameless than of old.

Burning Wood.

Wood crackles when it is ignited because the air expanded by heat forces its way through the pores of the wood with a crackling noise. Green wood makes less snapping than dry because the pores contain less air, being filled with sap and moisture, which extinguish the flame, whereas the pores of dry wood are filled with air, which supports combustion.

Five Strong Reasons

Why painting in the fall is best

1. In the fall, the surface is thoroughly dry. During the spring a surface which needs repainting is sure to contain moisture and dampness or frost, and it cannot be successfully painted until it has thoroughly dried out.

2. When the wood is dry, it absorbs more of the paint; the paint penetrates deeper into the wood, therefore gets a firmer hold on it, giving the paint coating greater tenacity for holding qualities.

3. Paint cannot be as successfully applied in damp, cloudy or unsettled weather as in warm, sunny weather. In the fall the weather is more settled and uniform and is warmer, therefore it is an excellent time for painting.

4. A house needs its protective coat of paint more in the winter months than at any other time. A house in need of painting should never be allowed to go over the winter without this protection.

5. It is easier to keep the winter's moisture and dampness out by applying a coat of paint in the fall, when the surface is dry, than it is to get moisture or dampness out of the wood if you want to apply a coat of paint in the spring.

CHANGE MAY BE MADE IN PLANS

Judge Taft May Leave Cincinnati During Campaign.

WILLING TO MAKE SPEECHES

Republican Presidential Candidate Says He Would Enjoy Delivering One Address a Day—National Committee in Charge of All Arrangements.

Hot Springs, Va., Aug. 21.—"After the first week of any speaking campaign has been gone through with and one finds himself, as it were, talking without difficulty on all the various subjects of discussion, I don't think there is anything more enjoyable than making at least one speech a day."

This utterance by Judge Taft presents his attitude toward campaigning. He added that in the 1904 campaign he made speeches during a six-weeks' tour of New York and New England, "and I enjoyed every minute of it."

When asked if it were not a possibility that a change might be made on the announcement that he would not leave Cincinnati during the campaign, Mr. Taft replied:

"Of course, there is nothing to prevent a change in these plans."

Mr. Taft admitted that perhaps the strong reason for the official announcement that he should remain in his native city was to forestall the deluge of applications for his presence in various parts of the country, but these applications are coming just the same. Any change of plans affecting the candidate, however, it was stated, was a matter entirely with the national committee.

That Mr. Taft is entirely willing to accommodate himself to anything but a whirlwind campaign, as he puts it, was made plain. "There is no harder work," he added, "than making hurried speeches from the rear end of a train, and I doubt if such work is effective."

In Hands of the Committee.

Should it be finally decided that Mr. Taft shall make a campaign out of Cincinnati his itinerary it was explained would be arranged entirely by the national committee, leaving him entirely free from details.

Judge D. D. Woodmansee, judge of the common pleas court at Cincinnati, president in 1906 of the National League of Republican clubs and a cousin and old friend of Judge Taft, arrived here and gave out an interview regarding the decision of the Ohio state committee not to invite Senator Foraker to speak at the opening of the national campaign at Youngstown Sept. 5, in which he said:

"Aside from the fact that we have had many campaign openings in Ohio without our senator taking part, it can at once be understood that a very important question of party policy arose this year. Every one can appreciate that it was an embarrassing situation. Senator Foraker in his Chamber of Commerce speech, delivered in Cincinnati only a short time ago, made a severe attack on the policies of President Roosevelt. How could the party who intends to fight the campaign on the policies in the platform consistently invite him to take the most conspicuous part in the campaign? It was practically impossible and most of Senator Foraker's friends see it that way."

"I will yield to no one in my admiration for Senator Foraker. The splendid services that he has heretofore rendered in behalf of the Republican party cannot and must not be forgotten and no one shall regret more than myself if he finds it impossible to serve the party during this important campaign."

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.

Predicted by Former Vice President Stevenson.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic candidate for governor of Illinois, came to Chicago and conferred with National Chairman Mack. Mr. Stevenson's visit followed a luncheon tendered him by the Iroquois club, at which he predicted a Democratic victory in November.

Mr. Stevenson told the national chairman that from reports received by him he believed Illinois would go Democratic for both the gubernatorial and national tickets.

Mr. Stevenson will make several speeches in the state during the next two months and it is not unlikely that he may be called upon by the national committee to go outside his state on a short stumping tour.

Speaking of the Democratic outlook in the national campaign this year, Mr. Stevenson said at the Iroquois luncheon:

"Everywhere I have spoken I have found Democrats formerly antagonistic to Mr. Bryan with him now. If we put our shoulders to the wheel we will bring about a great Democratic victory in November."

SLUMP IN COTTON.

Causes Excitement in the New York Market.

New York, Aug. 21.—Excitement prevailed in the cotton market throughout the session, an almost uninterrupted rapid decline in prices being the cause. The fall was most pronounced in the October option, that having been the principle vehicle for the recent big speculation for the advance, but the options of other months suffered badly also, even the spot article, which had not been affected by the downward tendency of this week, yielding very sharply at last.

Closing the previous night at $9.18, October soon was off 37 points to $8.81, a decline of $5 a bale from the recent high price.

While this decline was in progress the engineers of the move were estimated to have been paid with fully 75,000 bales and their selling was even faster, bringing the total amount disposed of by them during the day to 200,000 bales more or less. About the only support the market received came from the covering of shorts. From $8.81, October eventually reached $8.58, but closed at $8.70 showing a net loss for the day of 48 points, or about $2.50 a bale. The near months, August and September, held up for a while but at length were dragged considerable in sympathy.

The decline has been figured out variously in the street as meaning a loss of from $500,000 to $1,000,000 for the pool.

BRYAN STARTS ON SEVEN-DAYS' TRIP

Democratic Candidate Will Deliver Several Speeches.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 21.—William J. Bryan, Democratic candidate for the presidency, has left here on a seven-days' trip, in the course of which he will deliver several speeches and hold a three-days' conference with his campaign managers in Chicago.

The first stop will be at Des Moines, Ia., where he will discuss the tariff question. Saturday, Sunday and a part of Monday he will spend in Chicago, and on Tuesday he will be present at the notification in Indianapolis of John W. Kern, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, and upon which occasion he will speak on the subject of trusts. Two days later at Topeka, Kan., he will deal with the question of the guaranty of bank deposits and will return to Lincoln on Aug. 28.

Mr. Bryan held several long distance conferences over the telephone with his campaign manager, Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic headquarters in Chicago. The subject matter of the talk with Mr. Mack was not disclosed.

SUDDENLY COLLAPSED.

Bishop McQuaid Became Ill at a Banquet.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 21.—At the close of the banquet, with which the exercises of the new hall of theology at St. Bernard's seminary was concluded, Bishop Bernard J. McQuaid suddenly collapsed and it was feared that death was imminent. The exercises involved the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the bishop's episcopate and the sixtieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. While Bishop McQuaid was speaking he suddenly said:

"I would like to say more, but I feel that my strength is failing me."

With this the bishop became pale and leaned back in his chair and became unconscious.

Coadjutor Bishop Thomas F. Hickey prepared to administer extreme unction, the sacrament of the last rites, but Bishop McQuaid regained consciousness within a few minutes and slowly revived. Dr. Simpson, his physician, said he was in no imminent danger of death.

A Sad Situation.
"It's all off. My girl's folks have moved into the house we just vacated. Love's dream is over."
"Why so?"
"Now, my people are not soaks, understand; but we have been living in that house for many years, and I guess we didn't leave less'n a thousand empty bottles behind. Oh, wow!"

Full of Them.
"Why do they say the cup that cheers?"
"Aw, a drunken man will hurrah for anything."
